

SENSOR MODULE CONNECTIONS

This sheet shows the outputs for the bought and developed sensors.

The Air flow sensor is developed from scratch and such the circuit is shown.

The other modules are bought and schematics are not available.

Output connections for each module have example links to the sub hubs D type (in the brackets next to the output names).

These modules were attached to a harness during the presentation to attach the outputs to the sub hubs D type